

LOIS JOY JOHNSON

Beauty & Fashion Director

More Magazine

Lois Joy Johnson is the Beauty and Fashion Director of More and Ladies' Home Journal magazines, published by Meredith Corporation. She joined Ladies' Home Journal in 1982 as Beauty and Fashion Editor and was promoted to her current position in 1990. She has been with More since its inception.

Johnson is an honors graduate of Parson's School of Design in New York with a degree in fashion design and fashion illustration. She was a student of fashion/portrait legends Richard Avedon, Diane Arbus and Hiro. She received a scholarship to St. Martin's College of Art in London for further independent studies.

Johnson is the author and illustrator of "The Beauty Editor's Workbook," and a lecturer and consultant who has been featured on a number of television and radio broadcasts. She is a former fashion/beauty illustrator for Clinique, Christian Dior, Macy's, Bloomingdale's, Vogue Patterns, Mademoiselle, Glamour and Seventeen magazines. She also worked as the Associate Beauty Editor for Mademoiselle.

Johnson is a member of Fashion Group International and is listed in the Directory of Experts, Authorities and Spokespersons (an encyclopedia of sources).

She is the mother of two daughters and lives in Chappaqua, New York.